SECTION 4: FEDERAL TAX TREATMENT AND WITHHOLDING

Special Tax Treatment of Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distributions

On March 27, 2020, the President signed into law the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act (CARES Act). Section 2202(a) of the CARES Act would allow participants of most retirement plans who meet certain Coronavirus-related criteria to take tax penalty-free withdrawals from their individual accounts.

The Plan's Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution is designed to comply with Section 2202(a) of the CARES Act so that Participants who, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, have experienced adverse financial consequences may take advantage of the Federal tax-favored treatment of these distributions.

An Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution is subject to the following Federal income tax treatment:

- No 10% Tax Penalty – Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distributions are not subject to the 10% additional tax on early distributions.
- No 20% Withholding – Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distributions are not treated as eligible rollover distributions for certain purposes, including the 20% mandatory withholding requirement.
- Federal Income Tax Spread over 3 Years – Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distributions will be included in gross income over the course of a 3-year period, unless Participants elect otherwise.
- 3-Year Repayment Option – Recipients may repay any portion of an Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distributions, in one or more contributions, at any time within 3 years after receipt, to this Plan or any plan under which they participate that accepts rollovers.

IMPORTANT: YOU MUST COMPLETE THIS SECTION

Selection of Federal Income Tax Election

Your Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution is subject to 10% federal income tax withholding unless you elect to opt out of federal tax withholding or to increase the federal income tax you wish to withhold.

I elect to have federal income tax: withheld not withheld.

I want an additional amount withheld of $ _____.

Contact your tax advisor or the IRS if you have any questions concerning tax withholding.

SECTION 5: STATE INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING

Skip this Section if you reside in a state with no income tax or withholding requirement on retirement income.

The taxable portion of your payment may be subject to state income tax withholding requirements. While the Plan's record keeper, MassMutual, will withhold based on your state's income tax rules and your election, if applicable, you are responsible for ensuring you satisfy your individual state income tax liability. If you make an election that is not compliant with your state's income tax withholding rules, then MassMutual will default to your state's income tax withholding requirements.

State Income Tax Withholding rules are subject to change at any time. For current state specific tax information pertaining to your resident state, you should contact your tax advisor or your state income tax department. Also note, state tax rules may apply differently depending on your type of distribution (i.e., lump sum, periodic, non-periodic, etc.). In addition, some states allow for an exclusion from income distributions from certain retirement plans – to confirm whether you may qualify to exclude all or a portion of your Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution from income for state taxation purposes, you should consult your state income tax department.

If your state's income taxes are determined based on wage tables, MassMutual is unable to calculate a net amount, you will need to ensure that you have grossed up accordingly. There may be a delay if you request a net amount.

If you do not see your state listed below, it is a result of your state not permitting state income tax withholding.

Any tax information included in this written or electronic communication was not intended or written to be used, and it cannot be used by the taxpayer, for purpose of avoiding any penalties that may be imposed on the taxpayer by any governmental taxing authority or agency.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX TREATMENT AND WITHHOLDING

Distributions that qualify as coronavirus-related distributions as defined in the CARES Act:

- Are not subject to the 10% tax penalty typically applicable to early distributions.
- Are not eligible rollover distributions, meaning they are not subject to mandatory 20% income tax withholding. MassMutual will withhold 10% of these distributions as federal income tax withholding unless Participants elect otherwise.
- Will be included gross income for federal tax purposes over a 3-year period unless Participants elect otherwise. The IRS is expected to issue guidance on how this rule works.
- May be re-contributed, in whole or in part, in one or more payments, to this Plan or another eligible retirement plan that accepts rollovers under which you participate, within three years of receipt.

The favorable tax-treatment for coronavirus-related distributions is capped, in the aggregate, at $100,000 per participant.

TIMING OF DISTRIBUTION

Under Federal law, an Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution is treated similarly to other distributions available under the Plan even though an Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution may be paid to you before you retire or incur a separation from covered employment. Therefore, you should keep in mind that under current IRS rules:

- As noted above, you have the right to a 30-day period after you are provided with this Application Package, notice of the Plan's other distribution options, and notice of your right to defer a Plan distribution to decide whether to apply for an Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution. You may waive that right by filing the Application Form within this 30-day period. See Section 6 ("Participant Certification"), Part B ("Waiver of the 30-Day Period") of the Application Form.
- You must be provided with this Application Package, notice of the Plan's other distribution options, and notice of your right to defer a Plan distribution, no earlier than 180 days before the date your Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution is made from your account balances in the Plan. Accordingly, if, when you return the Application Form, the distribution cannot be made within 180 days of the date you were provided with this Application Package, the Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution will not be made and you will have to obtain another Application Package before you can apply for an Emergency Coronavirus-Related Distribution.

In accordance with federal law, a notice regarding the Plan's other optional forms of benefit is included in the following pages of this Application Package. The following pages also describe your right to delay commencement of your benefit.

RIGHT TO DELAY COMMENCEMENT OF YOUR BENEFIT

Please remember that distribution of your Individual Account must be made or begin by your Required Beginning Date. Currently, your Required Beginning Date is defined as April 1 of the year following the year in which you reach age 70 ½. Please note that you have the right to defer distribution of your Individual Account until your Required Beginning Date. If you refrain from commencing your benefit, the value of your Individual Account will remain invested in the Plan. Whether you wish to defer receipt of your distribution, have all or a portion of your benefit directly rolled over into an IRA or another eligible retirement plan, or receive your benefit at this time is a matter you should consider carefully. As you consider this question, keep in mind that if you defer your receipt of benefits your Annuity Account will continue to be invested by the Plan's Trustees in a diversified investment portfolio and your 401(k) Account, Rollover Account and Retiree Self-Directed Annuity Account will continue to be invested in the investment options you have selected.
